minor leagues in the past 10 years of more. Many of them quiet after the Fourth of July, a few before and only a few of the stronger organizations finished and they needed shifts to save their lives. Down in the Central the Grand Rapids franchise switched to Newark, South Bend shifted to Grand Rapids and Evansville sent to South Bend. The Wheel ing club has transferred all the balance of the home series on account o poor patronage. In the O. and P. Steubenville and East Liverpool have dropped out on account of financial troubles, while the New Castle franchise was moved to Sharon. The Tri-State shifted its schedule to draw better crowds. The Newark franchise of the Ohio State was transferred to

In the Southern, Mobile failed to Graw any kind of patronage and all home games have been transferred. In many others the season has been split or shifts made. But during the flurry in the minors the big leagues report one of the most successful geasons on record. Next year will see a complete reorganization of at teenth, Detroit had made three more least 75 per cent of the minors.
